MADGE'S GOT FAITH

MADONNA has decided who she wants to produce her next album – former Faithless star Jamie Catto.

The singer was blown away when she heard his 1 Giant Leap project – which included collaborations with Robbie Williams, Michael Stipe and Neneh Cherry.

If Catto agrees, working with Madge is guaranteed to propel him into the super-league.

She has previously hired William Orbit, who produced Ray Of Light, and the French maestro Mirwais who worked with her on Music and the new Bond theme, Die Another Day.

As well as writing and producing music Catto has also directed videos, including God Is A DJ, and edited books.
